Starship HLS

Elon Musk's Starship HLS is a lunar lander variant of the Starship spacecraft that is slated to transfer astronauts from a lunar orbit to the surface of the Moon and back.

With a height of 50 m (160 ft) it requires a device to lower the astronauts down to the moon surface and up again after mission completion. The current design foresees a deployable external elevator.

Do you think this is a reasonable fail-safe approach?

Yes: 58%

No: 42%
